Similar to Billon Tanka coins issued in the weight standard of 9.3 g for a single Tanka. This was a local Gujarat weight standard for Gujarat coins, unlike the 10 g Tanka of Delhi Sultanate weight standard. Unpublished, Unique.

While discussing the gold coins of Ahmad Shah II, Goron & Goenka have commented that “A gold Tanka is also reported to exist”. However, the said authors could not personally photograph the gold Tanka coin of Ahmad Shah II. Nevertheless, this is the first known gold coin of Ahmad Shah II. Moreover, this coin is also important for the reason that it is issued as a fraction of the newly launched Gujarat Weight Standard of 9 gram-Tanka series. The presence of this gold coin proves that Ahmad Shah II did continue his gold coinage, albeit in the local weight standard and moved away from the Delhi weight standard of Tanka coinage. This coin is published here for the first time and it is a historical piece not only for collectors of Sultanate coins but also an important piece of history of Gujarat. 1st Known coin, Unique.
